DENVER — Author Barbara Stafford will appear at Karin's Decor (117 Beaver Creek Plaza) for an "Eclectic Entertaining" book signing event today from 3 to 5 p.m.

Stafford is a Highlands Ranch resident and avid Vail and Beaver Creek skier. She will offer chocolate orange biscotti from her cookbook during the signing event. Stop in for a snack and visit Karin's.

BARBARA STAFFORD "Eclectic Entertaining" is a new and uniquely styled cookbook intended to resurrect the lost art of entertaining.

The book contains 15 complete dinner party menus to choose from — each with appetizers, sides, salad, a main course and dessert — with a complete grocery list for each menu.

host/hostess time and energy when planning, shopping and cooking.

The book becomes even easier to use when combined with your smart phone or tablet.

Each chapter ends with a QR Code to easily scan and access the grocery list and eliminate the need for a handwritten list.

If you like one or two items in the book but aren't cooking for an entire dinner party, easily touch any individual menu item and get the grocery list for that specific dish.

Books are $30 and available online at www.eclectic-entertaining.com and in select retail locations.
